Business

Wells Fargo Offer

Allen Hoppe gave a brief explanation of the Wells Fargo offer:

On behalf of the Council, Wells Fargo managed and invested a joint pool of cash for the Council via their securities lending program. Several other government entities also participated in the pool. Only investments complying with state statute can be purchased for this type of program.

A $3.2 million top-rated investment known as Victoria Finance was purchased by Wells in 2007. In early 2008, Victoria Finance defaulted. The Council has been receiving partial repayments since then but the value of the holding dropped from an original price of 100% to an estimated price of 44% per dollar held on 6-30-09, for an unrealized loss of about $1.3 million on the remaining balance.

An offer from Wells Fargo has been made whereby Wells will buy Victoria Finance from the Council, resulting in a net dollar loss of about $129,000 to the Council.

A motion was made by B. Meadley to accept this offer and seconded by C. Peterson. Motion carried.

Economic Review —

Past. Gross Domestic Product (GDP) rose at a 3.5% annual rate in the third quarter of 2009 (versus - 0.7% in the 2Q09). The positive number was helped by a 0.9% rise in inventories, 3.4% rise in consumption, a 7.9% rise in federal government spending, and an unexpected 23.4% rise in residential investment. This was the first increase since 2Q2008. Housing and manufacturing continued to improve but the labor market remained weak. The ISM manufacturing index, which gauges manufacturing activity came in at 55.7 in October (versus 52.6 in September) while the ISM non-manufacturing index which gauges the service sector came in at 50.6 in October (vs. 50.9 in September). A reading above 50 signals expansion while any reading below 50 indicates contraction. The Industrial production index increased in July (0.8%), August (1.2%) and September (0.7%), ending the streak of eight consecutive months of decline. Retail sales (ex-autos) came in at 0.5% in September (vs. -1.0% in August), thanks to the Cash for Clunkers program. While the economy is improving, there remain some concerns. The most worrisome statistic relates to unemployment, which stands at 9.8%, the highest level in 26 years. The third quarter saw average monthly job loss of $256,000, an improvement over the first two quarters of 2009. Note however, that the unemployment number is a lagging indicator – one of the last to show improvement.

Interest rates declined during the quarter, which helped the performance of long-term fixed income securities. The Merrill Lynch Agency Master Index returned 1.68% in the third quarter of 2009.

Present. The Federal Open Market Committee held Fed funds rate steady at a range of 0% to 0.25%. The FOMC pointed out improvements in the current environment and stated that rates would remain low for a very long time. Economic data continues to be mixed. The Conference Board's index of leading economic indicators, a gauge of the economic outlook for the next 3-6 months rose 1% in September, following a 0.4% gain in August and a 1% rise in July. This marked the longest series of consecutive gains since 2004. This index incorporates such leading indicators as gains in stock prices, consumer confidence and homebuilding, all of which contributed to the indexes' advance. Durable goods orders rose 1.0% in September (versus -2.4% in August). It marks the fourth time in six months that factory orders have increased. Job losses continue to weigh on the economy. For the week ended October 24th, 530,000 more Americans filed for unemployment benefits for the first time. Although unemployment is a lagging indicator, it signals future pressures on consumption and housing. In summary, the above mentioned signs indicate the economy is no longer contracting. Because consumer activity remains constrained by unemployment and increased savings, the pace of recovery will be slow and markets will remain volatile.

Future. The current consensus is that the economy will continue to improve but growth will be less robust. This position relates primarily to the continued upward movement in the unemployment rate and downward trend in core inflation. Most analysts at top U.S banks expect the Fed to keep interest rates on hold until mid 2010 or later. The interest rate futures markets are pricing in an increase earlier in 2010. Long term interest rates will likely rise as the Federal Reserve winds down their $300 billion Treasury Purchase Program. The Fed extended the mortgage related asset purchase program into early 2010 in order to facilitate a smooth market transition. Both programs helped stabilize the housing market and limited increases in borrowing costs.

Finally, there is considerable amount of money on the sidelines with institutional money markets.

According to Bianco Research, during the second quarter, U.S. corporations were holding about $994 billion in cash and short term investments. Once the economy starts to exhibit growth, institutions will most likely spend their money on investments and hiring.

Council Impact. Municipal bonds continued to rally in the third quarter. Unlike the second quarter rally, the third quarter rally was distributed across the entire curve – parallel downward shift. This boosted our total return in the long term portfolio (4.48%) when compared to the Merrill Lynch Agency Master Index (1.68%). The average coupon rate is at 4.5% (versus benchmark at 3.8%) and average yield-to-maturity is at 5.9% (versus benchmark at 2.05%). Unlike the long term portfolio, the short term portfolio did not perform as well. Yields remained below 0.25% in the short end of the curve. A low yield environment is viewed as an opportunity for the Council to refund some of our bond issues. In particular, the Council is planning to refund the series 2001B Metro Transit bonds via a current refunding and the series 2001D Waste Water bonds via a cross-over refunding. Both bond issues were rated AAA by Moody's and Standard & Poor's.

Investment Results & Strategy

MCOA—Short Term

3Q09 Results. Total return for this portfolio was above the index by 6 basis points. This portfolio has averaged 33 bps per year more than its benchmark over the past 10 years. We moved out of money markets during the third quarter because they provided lower yields (average of 0.16% in the institutional prime fund category) versus the interest bearing checking account (net 0.35% after fees). We continued to invest in the interest bearing (NOW) checking account that is available through the FDIC's Transaction Account Guarantee Program (TAGP). Funds in the account have unlimited FDIC coverage. 4Q09 Strategy. The Fed continues to maintain short term rates near zero. This provides limited opportunities for our short term portfolio. US Bank opted out of the TAGP program which was nationally extended through June 30, 2010. At end of October, US Bank lowered the NOW checking account rate from 0.49% to 0.25% (net 0.11% after fees). We will explore the possibility of moving back into money markets before year end.

Longer Strategy (12-months). Continue to monitor the market environment and if opportunity arises, invest in high credit quality investments which may include Treasury bills, agency discos, commercial paper, bank CDs, and prime money market funds. The outlook for short term investment income does not look good.

MCOA—Long Term

3Q09 Results. Total return was above the Merrill Lynch Agency Master index by 448 basis points. Several factors contributed to the higher return. First, our portfolio had a longer duration (4.71) than the benchmark (3.48). The longer duration positioning enhanced relative returns by participating in the yield rally. Second, about a third of our portfolio holdings are composed of municipal bonds. Municipal bonds outperformed agencies during the third quarter. Finally, we accepted an offer from Wells Fargo to settle the Victoria Finance security. As of August 31, 2009, the security was valued at forty-six cents on the dollar. We gained about 57 basis points in total return from the offered price.

4Q09 Strategy. Maintain duration within the 4 - 6 range. We will also continue to look for municipal issues in a very cautious and selective manner. Some shorter maturity municipal bonds (1-3) may be added to keep our duration from going much higher.

Longer Strategy (12-months). If interest rates rise in the near future, more investment opportunities will become available in the short end of the curve. We will also look at the possibility of investing in high quality mortgage backed securities in the 2010 after the Feds reduce their purchases.

EFPMs – Hedging Accounts

The energy forward pricing mechanisms (EFPMs) program manages the risk of swings in the cost of diesel fuel consumed by Metro Transit and Metro Mobility and natural gas consumed by Environmental Services and Metro Transit. During the third quarter 2009, diesel and natural gas contracts (combined) generated $2.6 million in net realized losses which was offset by a comparable drop in the price of fuel purchased. About $1.7 million in net unrealized gains occurred.

MCOA--Margin Account

The margin account supports both the diesel fuel and natural gas hedging programs; it includes cash, a money market balance, and a Treasury bill. Currently the cash position is earning less that 0.10% on an annualized basis. To enhance income, during the fourth quarter, we will swap out the Treasury bill with an agency note. The Chicago Mercantile Exchange allows us to meet our margin requirement with up to 90% of market value of an agency or Treasury security.

Low Activity Portfolios

The MCOA—The HUD portfolio received limited activity. The HUD account is kept liquid for operating purposes.

OPEB

3Q09 Results. Our OPEB portfolio is 97% invested in equities (returned 15.4%), 2% in fixed income (returned 4.24%) and 1% invested in cash (returned 0.14%). At end of 3Q2009, both the S&P 500 Index and our OPEB portfolio posted positive returns of 15.6% and 14.9%, respectively. For the quarter, the portfolio had $8 million of unrealized gains.

4Q09 Strategy. Equity markets continued to rally. At October 30, the S&P 500 Index was up 57% from its low in March 2009. We believe our results will improve on both an absolute and relative basis as the economy continues to recover. The current market value of $65 million reflects a cumulative unrealized loss of $14 million since inception.

Longer Strategy (12-months). Continue with our current asset allocation of mostly equities with minor adjustments when markets become historically expensive.
